

Reiki and Medicine: What You Need to Succeed with Pamela Miles

Registration:

<http://bit.ly/ReikiMed>

Limited spaces available

“I am consistently inspired by your passion and clarity. Thank you for what you do. You help me do what I do better.” — Lori-Lyn Hurley

May 16 - May 19 | 10 AM - 6:30 PM (earlier Sun.)

Class fee: $545 before April 20 | $595 thereafter

Cancellation minus $50 until April 20; none later

Upper West Side Manhattan | New York City

What will I learn in this intensive?

- What doctors need to know about Reiki
- What doctors do not want to hear
- How to communicate the benefits of Reiki treatment without making claims
- How to credibly address the issue of safety
- How Reiki treatment benefits patients, families, and staff
- What science supports Reiki practice
- How to volunteer responsibly
- How to evaluate a Reiki program
- What are the most critical factors for your success?

Attendees will be given a 4 phase model proposal for integrating Reiki into conventional health care and strategies for building their Reiki business.

Pamela Miles is a Reiki master and integrative health care consultant in New York City practicing Reiki since 1986, who has pioneered the integration of Reiki treatment into conventional medicine, and remains the foremost authority in the field. Pamela is the author of “REIKI: A Comprehensive Guide” and numerous peer-reviewed medical papers. Pamela has created Reiki programs in hospitals, collaborated on medical research, and presented Reiki in medical schools, including Harvard and Yale. She is internationally recognized for her ability to express Reiki with clarity and elegance.

Even after practicing Reiki for 17 years, I came away knowing how to communicate Reiki more effectively and determine the validity of Reiki research.
— Sharon Yeskel, Reiki Master